To the friends of Humanity.

AN aged, infirm, and widowed mother, is desirous to receive information of THOMAS BURTON CARTER, an only son, concerning whom she has not heard any thing, on which reliance can be placed, for nearly three years. He removed from this place to the state of Ohio about five years ago. The last certain account she had from him, was from Cadiz in that state. He is about twenty five years of age; by trade a tailor. Vague rumour has recently pronounced him dead. A letter communicating information relative to him, directed to Henry Tuttyer, P. M. at this place, would confer a peculiar kindness on an afflicted woman.

Editors of Newspapers generally, are intreated to give this article a place in their columns a few lines.

French Creek Boarding School.

The following is published for the information of Parents:

HAVING long believed that a School on a plan different from most others in many respects, would be beneficial to society, and apprehending that with all its cares, and the responsibility inseparable from such a concern, I could more cheerfully devote my time to the education of children than to any other business, I have concluded to establish a BOARDING SCHOOL for GIRLS—With this view I have purchased the FARMER CREEK FARM, four miles east of the yellow springs, on the Norristown and Philadelphia road, situated in Pikesland and Vincent townships, Chester county, twenty-seven miles from Philadelphia, combining many conveniences for the support of such an institution; and having let the farm, etc. in a way calculated to supply the family with provisions, I propose to devote my attention, with the aid of suitable assistants, to the education of the children who may be placed under my care.

In selecting the pupils, it is not proposed to be governed entirely by their ages, nor to receive those who are not well in number and very simple, it is my wish that none may be sent contrary to their own inclination, nor any one who would not be likely to be good examples to the other scholars, and treat them with kindness and affection.

The price for board and tuition will be two hundred Dollars per annum, one quarter always to be paid in advance—no restrictions respecting the kind of clothing are intended, nor respecting the frequency of the changes that parents may require; the washing will be charged at the ordinary price per dozen—children may be admitted for one quarter only, and such as are entered for a longer period, may nevertheless be removed at the expiration of any quarter.

The communication with Philadelphia will be frequent and easy by stage, and a house of entertainment kept by the farmer for the accommodation of persons having business at the school.

Reading, Writing, Arithmetic, English Grammar, Geography and the use of Maps and globes, will be taught, together with such other branches as the progress of the children and experience may render expedient. The school to open the first of the 5th month next. For further information apply to Edward Stabler, Alexandria, or to

PROPOSALS

for publishing by subscription, a new work, entitled

THE TREASURE OF HEALTH;

OR,

A complete collection of the most valuable secrets in medicine, for the cure of all diseases, wounds and other accidents to which the human body is subject; with the method of preparing, and instructions for using, the necessary remedies.

Also, the best preservatives against the plague, small pox, and all other kinds of contagious diseases.—Discovered after much research and experience by the most skillful physicians in Europe, and employed with the greatest success; and unknown till the present time in the United States.

Carefully collected, by a Benevolent Society, and faithfully translated from the French, and other foreign languages.

And published for the benefit of humanity, BY LEWIS MERLIN.

TO THE PUBLIC.

The work which is this day offered for public usefulness, ought not to be looked upon as those which a desire of gain bring forth every day among us. This is a rare and precious collection of the most valuable secrets in medicine, which the most skillful physicians have discovered after long researches, labor and experience. It is, without contradiction, the first of the kind that has ever appeared within the United States of America, and a treasure which every head of a family could not too much appreciate; as it points out the symptoms of several diseases, of which many persons are only acquainted with their names; 2d, the receipt of the quantity and quality of the drugs that are made use of; 3d, their preparations so carefully described and detailed that the least intelligent person cannot be mistaken; and finally the necessary doses and the manner of administering them. One may rest assured that all in this collection is easy to put into practice, the expense is trifling, because all the simples and plants which word, that it affords the means of curing, in a short time, all the diseases and evils with which one may be afflicted, and at a low expense.

It is to a benevolent society we are indebted for such a precious treasure. Their whole good wish towards suffering humanity, induced that society to spare neither pains, care nor expense in obtaining from all parts of the globe, and to give in one and only collection, a valuable and complete selection of receipts for the cure of all diseases with which the human body is every day afflicted, which their renowned virtues, the repeated experience that has been made of them, even on patients who had been given up by their physicians, and the cures resulting from them, have caused them to be adopted as sovereign and infallible remedies.

Amongst the great number of diseases that have been cured by these inestimable secrets, we shall only name some of them, of which the foreign journals and American newspapers have borne the most authenticated testimony, such as apoplexy, asthma, bilious, windy and nephretic colic, consumption of lungs, debility, dysentery, diarrhoea, dropsy in the breast, in the brain, compound dropsy, anasarque or ascites, epilepsy, diseases of the eyes, intermittent, tertian, quartan, continual and inflammatory fevers, malignant, spotted and scarlet fevers, hives (so fatal to children), inflammation of the bowels, of the liver and lungs, gangrene, itch, jaundice, fits, hooping-cough, lethargy, leprosy, rheumatism, pulmonary, scurvy, swellings, sore throat, worms, tapeworm, complaints of the bowels, looseness or bloody flux, folly or madness originated after a sequel of disease, or through an intemperate use of spirituous liquors, cold and scintific gouts, gravel, gonorrhoea, hydrophobia, bite of venomous animals, hemorrhagy, palpitation of the heart, stone, &c. &c.

This precious collection contains likewise a great number of receipts for preparing several kinds of balsam, ointment or salves, with the manner of using them, and the effects of which are so surprising, that they cure in a very short time, the cancers, without the assistance of any operation; the king's evil, better or ring's worm, wens; all sorts of cuts, wounds, however large and deep they may be, both inward and outward hemorrhoids, all pains and swellings arising from rheumatism, all kinds of burns, all catarracts of the eyes, even those that deprive of the sight; all sores that come on women's breasts; all kinds of sore legs and ulcers, however old they may be; chancres, buboes, and other venereal disorders; they join the nerves again, when they have been cut or broken in any manner whatever; they strengthen weak nerves and prevent the palsy when ever one is threatened with it; they draw out broken bones and all other foreign bodies that may be in sores or wounds; in short, these ointments or salves do possess such a virtue against the gangrene, that many persons being at the point of having their legs, hands or fingers cut off, have been entirely cured by the application of these ointments alone.

In this interesting work will be also found the inestimable receipt of the grand preventives against the plague, pestilential, spotted and other fevers, small pox, and all kinds of contagious diseases; their preparations with the manner of making use of them both inwardly and outwardly, as well to preserve ourselves against the contagion as to be cured whenever one is afflicted with them; and wonderful and most valuable secrets in medicine—always employed with success, and never failed to cure in epidemic and contagious diseases, and unknown to the present time in the United States of America.

In short, the famous and renowned syrup of long life, or the great preserver of health, whose so extraordinary virtues have drawn the attention of a great number of physicians, although the desire of gain has endeavored to counterfeit or imitate it, but always without success. That receipt so very simple, so very easy to prepare, and of a good taste, was given by an old gentleman of one hundred and thirty-two years of age, who has facts which this simple receipt has always produced on the persons who have made use of it are so well known that no more need to be said on that subject; and although this work contains a great number more of other receipts and other matters not less interesting for the human body, we shall not dwell any longer on the benefits arising to the public out of this precious collection; because it is only by putting what is taught in it into practice, that the public will be convinced of the truth that there is no quackery nor deception in all that has been said, but many truths which could not be too much appreciated.

We recommend this work to heads of families, more particularly to those who reside in the country, who owing to their situation are often deprived of medical assistance in cases of the most urgent necessity; it is likewise of the greatest utility to those who through their profession are obliged to visit the sick; as also to the ministers and pastors of congregations, who in their situation are likewise obliged to afford relief to suffering humanity; in short, it could not be too much recommended to captains, masters of vessels, seafaring men and other travellers, who frequent warm climates, as well as to those persons who have a desire to preserve their own health; so much the more, as (we repeat it again) that all therein contained is easy to put in practice, and the expense is small.

As the publication of this work is not an object of a pecuniary speculation, but the welfare of humanity generally, we have endeavored, as well as the expense has permitted, to fix the price of subscription as low as possible, in order that the poor as well as the rich may be able to obtain it, and experience its good effects principally in warm seasons, and in cases of contagious diseases.

CONDITIONS.

To render this work more portable, and comply with the wishes of many persons, it will form a large volume in 12mo. to be printed on good paper and good type, and delivered neatly bound and lettered to subscribers at 150 cents, for non-subscribers, the price will be enhanced to two dollars, and the profit arising from it will be for the benefit of the poor.

As soon as the subscription will be sufficient to defray the expense of printing, the work will be put to press and distributed as soon as circumstances will permit.

To prevent counterfeiting this work, the copy right has been secured according to law; and moreover each copy shall be signed by the person who has the sole direction of superintending the publication of it.

BILIOUS AND MALIGNANT FEVERS is recommended

Hahn's ANTI-BILIOUS PILLS

THIS Medicine has been attended with a degree of success highly grateful to the inventor's feelings in several parts of the West Indies and in the Southern and Middle States, &c.

The testimony of a number of persons can be adduced, who have reason to believe that a timely use of this salutary remedy has, under Providence, preserved their lives when in the most alarming circumstances.

Facts of this conclusive nature speak more in favour of a medicine than columns of pompous eulogy founded on mere assertion.

It is not indeed presumptuously proposed as an infallible cure, but the inventor has every possible reason that can result from extensive experience for believing that a dose of these Pills taken once in every two weeks during the prevalence of our bilious fevers, will prove an infallible preventive; and further, that in the earlier stages of those diseases their use will very generally succeed in restoring health, and frequently in cases esteemed desperate and beyond the power of common remedies.

The operation of these pills is perfectly mild, so as to be used with safety by persons in every situation and of every age.

They are excellently adapted to carry off superfluous bile and prevent its morbid secretions—to restore and amend the appetite—to produce a free perspiration and thereby prevent colds which are often of fatal consequences. A dose never fails to remove a cold if taken on its first appearance; they are celebrated for removing habitual costiveness—sickness at the stomach and severe head-ache—and ought to be taken by all persons on a change of climate.

They have been found remarkably efficacious in preventing and curing disorders attendant on long voyages, and should be procured and carefully preserved for use by every seaman.

Hamilton's Elixir.

A sovereign remedy for colds, obstinate coughs, asthma, sore throats, catarrhs, and approaching consumptions.

To parents who have children afflicted with the HOOPING COUGH, this discovery is of the first magnitude, as it affords immediate relief, checks the progress, and in a short time entirely removes the most cruel disorders to which children are liable. The Elixir is perfectly agreeable, and the dose so small that no difficulty arises in taking it.

Hamilton's Grand Restorative.

Is recommended as an invaluable medicine for the speedy relief and permanent cure of Nervous Disorders Violent cramps in Consumptions the stomach and Lowness of spirits back Indigestion Impurity of blood Melancholy Hysterical affection Gout in the stomach Inward weaknesses Pains in the limbs and debility Relaxations, etc.

Hamilton's Essence and Extract of Mustard.

A safe and effectual remedy for acute and chronic rheumatism, gout, rheumatic gout palsy, lumbago, numbness, white swellings, chilblains, strains, bruises, pain in the face and neck, etc. etc.

Lee's Ointment for the Itch.

Warranted an infallible remedy at one application, may be used with perfect safety by pregnant women, or on infants a week old, not containing a particle of mercury or any dangerous ingredient whatever, and not accompanied with that tormenting smart which attends the application of other remedies.

Hahn's true & genuine German Corn Plaster.

An infallible remedy for corns, speedily removing them root and branch, without giving any pain.

The Genuine Persian Lotion.

So celebrated among the fashionable throughout Europe, is an invaluable cosmetic, perfectly innocent and safe, free from corrosive and repellent minerals, the basis of other lotions, and of unparalleled efficacy in removing blemishes of the face and skin, freckles, pimples, inflammatory redness, scurf, tetter, ringworms, sunburns, prickly heat, &c.

Hahn's genuine Eye Water.

A sovereign remedy for all diseases of the eyes, whether the effect of natural weakness, or of accident.

Tooth Ache Drops.

The only remedy yet discovered which gives immediate and lasting relief in the most severe instances.

Lee's Infallible Ague and Fever Drops

For the cure of agues, remittent and intermittent fevers.

At the place of sale pamphlets may be had gratis, describing cures performed by the above medicines; the number, importance and respectability of which, fully justify every article of this advertisement.

From the Raleigh Star.

The following address, written by Mr. A. Lucas, was spoken by Mr. Caldwell, on the last night of the performance of his Company in Raleigh.

When first Melpomene, in older time,
Told her sad stories in pathetic rhyme,
The warlike Greek would bend his stubborn soul
And unrestrained tears permit to roll:
Guilt cover'd beneath the poet's actor's art,
And bright examples fir'd the patriot's heart!

Then young Thalia, laughter's frolic queen, Bade mirth and humor variegate the scene.
No more sweet pity's drops bedew the eyes,
No more the heart in pensive sadness sighs;
The cheerful glance, the winning smile obtain,
And banish'd far, are grief, and woe, and pain.

Rivals in human hearts for many an age,
These scenic queens a constant warfare wage.
At length, sublime in genius, Shakspeare obtain'd
By fate to reconcile the foes.
Each own'd him as her son, to each he bow'd,
And all their fond maternal claims allow'd.
His graver offerings on one altar laid,
And to the other lighter flowers paid;
Till 'neath one dome the sister lines were rear'd,
And he the immortal priest of both appear'd.

A votary of the drama's moving art,
Here seeks its moral lesson's to impart.
From distant scenes and foreign lands he came,
Your kind, indulgent patronage to claim:
And still he hopes, with each returning year,
To meet, and merit, gen'rous welcome here.
Tho' hard his task, severe the critics laws,
His toils are recompens'd by your applause.
Nor will he ever droop, when, as to-night,
In frequent rows, wit, sense, and beauty bright, Shed round his path their cheering beams of light.

From the New-York Columbian.

Mr. Spooner.

Sir—Knowing your readiness to promulgate any thing that may have a tendency to relieve the sufferings of your fellow-mortals, I hope that you will give the following Recipe a place in your useful paper.

Above thirty years ago, in consequence of a severe cold, I was attacked with what soon moved to be the consumption. Being blessed with a hale constitution previous to this attack, I neglected to take advice for some time. At last, finding the disorder gaining upon me, being troubled with a violent cough, and emitting a vast quantity of mucus, I applied to Doct. Bradhurst, a skilful physician, now living—I informed him, that I thought my case was serious. He informed me that my lungs were affected. Upon which I asked him how long he thought I could survive. The Doctor replied, that "humanly speaking, not longer than the last of March."—This was the beginning of January. A friend handed me an old newspaper, with the following Recipe therein:—

"A sure Cure for the Consumption, if taken in time—J. Randolph, Buckingham County, Virginia."

Take a handful of the bitter herb called Hoarhound, put it into two quarts of water, boil it down to one half—after straining, put in some honey, or molasses—put it on the fire to incorporate—then add a little old rum, and cork it up. Take half a tea-cupful filled up with warm milk; if you cannot readily procure warm, make cold milk blood-warm—take a cupful fasting, and another about noon, on an empty stomach.

I used, it, and praise be to God, it cured me effectually—nor have I been one day indisposed since.

Yours, LOVAT, 76 Gold-street.

Rats and mice will immediately quit barns, granaries, &c. wherein is placed the field plant, called Dog's tongue, bruised with a hammer. Douglas's paper.

LOO-CHOO ISLANDS.
[No. 7 and last.]

How many goodly creatures are there here!
How beautiful mankind is! O brave new world,
That has such people in it!

SHAKESPEARE.

In the exultation of our hearts while reading this delightful account, we could not help several times pouring forth an ejaculation of thanksgiving to Providence, for having exempted one race of people at least, from two of the greatest curses which the obstinacy of man's wayward, distorted nature, has so fastened upon his habits, that it would seem as if they were as inseparably linked to his nature as respiration or the circulation of blood to his life—we mean war and political business. With respect to the former, the evidence is sufficiently complete that they are utter strangers to it—but it is by no means so clear that they are altogether exempt from the other, and in our opinion, the greater evil. The only evidence we have on that head is purely negative, which, logically speaking, is no proof at all. That their political system, whatever it may be, is not of that happy species which, like some in the world, arms man against man with stubborn malignity, turning every heart into a fountain of poison, is pretty certain. That their government is monarchical, is no less clear—but the probability is, that it is not despotic—that it is patriarchal—and that the sovereign, defended merely by the reverence of his people, has nothing to fear from them, and is therefore exempted from the exercise of cruelty or tyranny, those associates of fear and danger. Capt. Maxwell endeavored to procure an interview with their sovereign; "but this was not only rejected with the greatest appearance of distress, but every inquiry into his condition or place of residence seemed to produce equal suffering and embarrassment."

"A grave and dignified person, said to be the heir apparent, paid a visit to the ship; and was infinitely relieved, when captain Maxwell, with his usual mildness and good sense, assured him, that 'how ever desirous he had originally been to pay his respects to his majesty, he had ceased to think of it from the moment he had learned that it was contrary to the customs of the country.' The chiefs fell on their knees to the captain on hearing this gracious communication. All the natives kneeling before him, while from their dress and occupations, were evidently servants, sat down along with the chiefs to the table which their master had left."

Of their religion, the account given, or at least the account of their observance of it, is rather singular.—An excessive devotion to their religion or to the superstition they embrace as such, even to the most gross bigotry, is generally the characteristic of a people in circumstances similar to those of the Loo-Choo islands.—For coldness and disregard of their religion we may look in vain but in the circles of extreme refinement: in fact, those are the vices of what is called the fashionable world. Yet captain Hall informs us, that the religion of this people is that of Buddha or Fo, (one of the Chinese superstitions,) but that "it seems to occupy scarcely any share of their regard,—and that the priests are universally regarded as the lowest and least respected class in the community.—Like the priests of the Catholic, they are condemned to celibacy; and seemed to have no occupation but to sweep the temple, and keep the walks in the garden in order." They have a timorous and subdued expression of countenance—and when our officers showed them any mark of respect, the chiefs represented it as quite ridiculous, and told them to show them no sort of attention.—They never talk or seem to think on religion—nor did the visitors observe anything in the nature of a religious ceremony, except the killing of a hog, and burning some spirits over the grave of the English sailor; a proceeding in which, however, the priests were not allowed to take any share, but was entirely conducted by the chiefs.—They bury their dead; and after some years gather up their bones, which they preserve in jars of a handsome shape. It is not improbable that this instance of a people so estimable and moral in their conduct, being so entirely neglectful of religion, and contemptuous to their priest, will be wrested to the purpose of an argument in favor of their impiety by the sticklers for infidelity, and the opposers of the necessity of public worship.

The seclusion of their women remains yet to be spoken of. It was so complete, however, that none of the British ever fairly saw one of them during the whole time of their stay. Once, some of the officers rowed near a point where several were assembled to look at them; but they fled on their approach. The best view they had of them, was through the telescope in the ship's cabin window. By this means they saw them passing along with their children bound on their backs, and sometimes hunking rice in a wooden mortar, undressed from the waist upwards. One young lady was observed to amuse herself a long time in making her dog bark at the ships. They do not allow polygamy; and expressed great horror at the licentious practices of the Chinese in that respect. They would never talk of their women, nor give any explanation of their reasons for thus secluding them. All that could be got from them was, that they would be sadly terrified at the sight of the English strangers.—"Loo-Choo woman see Ingereen man, Loo-Choo woman cry." On another occasion, on being shown the picture of an English lady, they said, "Loo-Choo woman not handsome!" but whether out of jealousy or humility, it is not easy to determine.—Tho' they often spoke with affection of their children and families, it is rather surmised by captain Hall, that they do not treat their women with very great gallantry or indulgence. It was gathered, not only that they were scarcely admitted into society, but that a considerable share of the drudgery of agriculture fell upon them; and it was suspected that they were not allowed the indispensable luxury of a fan.

We cannot, says the Edinburgh Review, bid farewell to these interesting islands, without again expressing our pride and admiration at the uniform propriety, good humor, and kindness of those of our countrymen to whom we are indebted for the knowledge of them, and by whom we hope they will judge of English and European manners. It is fortunate to be represented in foreign regions by such men as captains Maxwell and Hall, and the crews formed by their precept and example: nor can anything be more delightful than the spectacle of warlike and hardy men, secluded from female society, and all the softening influence of domestic life, thus yielding themselves to the kindly feelings of human brotherhood, and exchanging gentle offices with a race of beings, in whom, however amiable, coarser and uneducated nations might so easily have found materials for scorn and derision. It seems very singular indeed, to us, that their should have been no tendency to any such feelings—and that the whole crews should have been so subdued by the kindness and unaffected suavity of those gentle strangers, as to have laid aside a great part of their habitual roughness on their account, and treated them with something of the softness and consideration, with which generous men al-timid and unwarlike natives, that must be allowed to British seamen, there is something, we confess, a little ridiculous in the picture of this comparatively effeminate race, armed only with fans, and bustling about with their submissive smile, and long petticoats of bright silk and figured muslin; and it is not without difficulty that we can avoid feeling a little contempt for that utter ignorance of discord and avarice, which must constitute their chief felicity. It is only necessary, however, to read captain Hall's book to become ashamed of these paltry feelings, and to be convinced that they who could thus win the friendship and esteem of the crews and commanders of British ships of war, can only appear ridiculous when considered through the medium of some gross and despicable prejudice.

We are sorry to learn by the Rover, that it was very sickly at Mobile: as well as at Blakely. Some of the passengers on board the Rover, are sick with the fever which prevailed there. Mr. Burnham, a merchant of Mobile, who took passage in this vessel, died the 6th day after sailing.

[New-York Mercantile Advertiser.]

An extract of a letter received in this city from a gentleman of respectability in the Alabama territory, says: "The people of Florida and the neighborhood, continued in perfect health, but there is much sickness at Mobile and Blakely. There have been many deaths and almost universal sickness, and in consequence thereof a total stop to business. Such is the report, and I fear it is too well founded."

The many deaths from the diseases of children this season in our great cities, have led to many enquiries into the causes. A late writer denounces fruit both ripe and unripe. Why this disagreement. Tissot, author of the valuable work on health, declares after the experience of a long life of 90 years, and a practise of 70, that he never lost a child, that had used ripe fruit, by the fall disorders. Why the temptation so great and the evil so sure. Is not nature a good nurse, and is not ripe fruit to the boy, what milk is to the infant. Ought not the experiments or observations on this subject to be made with great caution.

NAVAL ANECDOTE.

A paragraph in the Baltimore Telegraph, has lately called the attention of the public, to the services and exploits of Capt. ISAAC HULL, during the late war with Great Britain and deservedly claimed for him the highest respect of his countrymen. Some documents have accidentally fallen into our hands, in relation to a bold achievement of that distinguished officer in the year 1800, which places his courage, seamanship and conduct in a striking light; the credit of which, from a misprint of his name, at the time, in the newspapers never has been awarded to the right individual.

Capt. Hull, was the first Lieut. of the frigate Constitution, commanded by Capt. Talbot, during the short war, which was waged between the United States and the French Republic. The Constitution was cruising upon the coast of St. Domingo in the spring of 1800; and, Capt. Talbot, hearing that a French armed ship, lying in Port Plate, though she was protected by her own guns and a fort of three heavy cannon, determined upon cutting her out. He, at first, intended to have silenced the fort with the battery of his ship, but finding it somewhat dangerous to approach near enough to perform this service with the Constitution, he altered his plan—and entrusted the enterprise with Lieut. Hull. The sloop Sally, a vessel belonging to Rhode Island, having left Port Plate with an intention of returning, and being detained by Capt. Talbot on account of illicit traffic, afforded an excellent opportunity to effect the intended object. She was made use of as a disguise, and a detachment of about 30 volunteers, consisting of seamen and marines were put on board under the direction of Lieut. Hull. The marines were to be commanded by Capt. Carrick and Lieut. Armory, when they should be called upon to act on shore. The Sally left the Constitution on Sunday May 11; 1800, and on her route, was boarded by the French frigate, the Captain of which, intended to have cut out the French Corvette on the following day.

At sunrise next morning, the vessel was a few miles to the windward of Port Plate, and Lieut. Hull called all hands upon deck, detailed his plan of attack, and appointed the officers and men to their respective stations. The Sally bore up for the harbor, as a merchant vessel, whilst Lieut. Hull, disguised in the habit of a sailor, took the helm himself, and stood in. She passed the fort without molestation and Lieut. Hull laying her on board the enemy's vessel, and calling out "Boarders Aboard," carried her, under cover of a fire of musketry, without the loss of a man. The French crew, taken by surprise, either jumped overboard or were captured; among the latter were the first and second Lieutenants belonging to the French navy. Lieut. Armory, with his marines, in a moment afterwards, were in the boat, which sunk alongside the vessel—but heading his gallant party, who swam with their muskets, he soon reached the shore.—Rushing up the hill with charged bayonets, they drove the panic-struck garrison from the fort, and spiked the guns. In the space of 15 minutes both the fortress and vessel were captured.—She proved to be the Sandwich, a fast sailing, copper bottomed ship of 500 tons, but completely dismantled, without either rigging or sails upon the masts. She was lying in a position in which the guns of the work and the cannon which had been landed from the Sandwich, were so disposed as to command the ship and the entrance of the harbor in a most effectual manner.

Lieut. Hull, being in an enemy's port, in possession of a dismantled ship, with a hostile population surrounding him, perceived the necessity of promptness and activity in his movements; and he ordered the 6 cannon which yet remained on board to be brought in battery to bear on the side which commanded the approach to the ship. A flag of truce, at this juncture, was sent on board from the governor of the place, by his aid, to learn the further intentions of the American commanding officer. Hull promised him, if they would remain quiet, not to offer violence to the town or its inhabitants; but if any hostile attempts were made upon the vessel, he should repel force by force. At ten o'clock in the forenoon, they began to sway up the topmasts of the prize, at five in the afternoon, being entirely ready for service, they weighed anchor from Port Plate, and at noon the next day rejoined the Constitution.

*A harbor of about twenty geographical miles eastward of Cape Francis. The town contains about 5000 inhabitants.

Baltimore Hospital.
24th August, 1818.

THE board of visitors have much pleasure in announcing to the public, that within the last eighteen months, a large and elegant addition has been made to this valuable institution, in the erection of the East wing of the building. This wing is 152 feet in length and 36 in width, with an extensive Southern projection at its extreme East end. It contains between 30 and 40 apartments, admirably calculated for the accommodation of every class of patients. Of this number are several large and airy wards, intended particularly for the reception of seamen, and well adapted to their various diseases. These different rooms and wards will be warmed by open fires, and by heated air thrown into them, from furnaces constructed on a safe and improved plan. Arrangements will also soon be made, for lighting the apartments in the entire building, with gas.

The unwearied exertions of Doctors Mackenzie and Smyth, the attending Physicians of the Hospital, in their attention to the construction of the building, and their care of the sick, have given a character to this institution, which is now inferior to none in the United States. In the short space of six years; a most noble establishment has been erected—a thing without parallel in this country. It is well known, that above half a century has been consumed, in bringing the Hospitals of New-York and Philadelphia to their present size, and it is admitted by many gentlemen, who have visited these Institutions, that the Hospital here, is by far the most extensive, the whole building being now complete.

The daily increase of the sick in the Hospital, renders it absolutely necessary that the new wing should be furnished; and every exertion is now making, to have it completed, before the cold weather shall set in.

The visitors at their late meeting, examined the Institution with much care—the apartments of the sick in the private infirmary—those in the lunatic asylum—and the wards of the sick and disabled seamen in the Marine Hospital—and they assent with confidence, that the sick and afflicted of every description are well accommodated and carefully attended. They have seen at their different meetings, the private patient comfortable; the wretched marine humanely taken care of; and the sailor, disabled by age, wounds and sickness, well provided with suitable medical assistance, and with every other comfort which his condition may require. Indeed the agreeable situation in which this very useful class of men are placed, does much credit, as well to the Director of the Marine Hospital, as to the attending Physicians, to whose immediate care they are entrusted. Every praise too, which the visitors can bestow, is due to Mr. & Mrs. Gatchel, the Stewart and Matron of the Hospital, for the neat and clean manner in which the House is uniformly kept, and for their care and attention to the administration of the internal economy of the establishment.

Before they conclude this account of the Hospital, the visitors would invite the attention of their fellow citizens throughout the United States, to the Anatomical Cabinet of Wax Preparations, by Chaptal, which certainly far surpasses any thing of the kind exhibited in this country; and will afford to those whose curiosity may lead them to see how "fearfully and wonderfully they are made," but more especially to the medical student, a fund of useful information.

BILL IN CHANCERY.
Robert Perry
versus James B. Dunnington, Robert Dunning-ton, Francis Taylor and Elizabeth B. his wife, James Blaxham and Catharine his wife, William Simmons and Esther his wife, heirs of William Dunnington.
THE Complainant alleged in his bill that the Respondents have in possession the real estate of their deceased father Wm. Dunnington, whose personal estate was not sufficient for the payment of his debts. Wm. Dunnington's estate is indebted to the complainant in a large sum of money. The object of the bill is to procure a decree for the sale of the land, for the payment of the debts remaining unpaid by the personal estate.
Some of the heirs of Wm. Dunnington are non-residents.—It is thereupon, at motion of the Complainant, ordered that he cause a copy of this order to be inserted in the Alexandria Gazette for the space of three months, to the intent that the absent defendants may have notice of this application, and of the subject and object of the bill, and may be warned to appear in this court in person or by a senior, to show cause, if any there be, wherefore a decree should not pass as prayed. Teste,

Charles County Court.
March Term, 1818.
ON application to Charles county court by petition in writing of John Smith, of Charles county, for the benefit of the act of assembly for the relief of sundry involuntary debtors, passed at November session 1805, and the several supplements thereto, on the terms mentioned therein, a schedule of his property and a list of his creditors on oath, so far as he can ascertain them, being annexed to his petition, and the court being satisfied by competent testimony that the said John Smith has resided two years immediately preceding the time of his application, in the state of Maryland, and being also satisfied that the said John Smith is in actual confinement for debt, and the said John Smith having entered into bond with sufficient security for his personal appearance in Charles county court, to answer such allegations as his creditors may make against him.—It is therefore order-be discharged from imprisonment; and that by causing a copy of this order to be before the third Monday of August next, he give notice to his creditors to appear before the said Court, at Charlestown, in said county, on the said third Monday of August next, for the purpose of recommending a trustee for their benefit, and to show cause why the said John Smith should not have the benefit of the several insolvent laws as prayed. Given under my hand this 20th day of June 1818.

Dr. Thomson's System of Chemistry.
IN FOUR VOLUMES OCTAVO.
THE preceding edition of Dr. Thomson's Chemistry, had acquired so much reputation both in England and upon the continent of Europe, that a new edition, comprising the new facts with which the science had been enriched, and the new views of the subject which extended knowledge had suggested as indispensable, was eagerly looked for by the scientific world. A new edition has accordingly appeared, wherein the former edition of five volumes has been condensed into four.
All the new discoveries, and all the new theories of Chemical Phenomena, have been considered and embraced in the present improved edition: so that it is indispensable to the chemical student, as presenting the only condensed view of the changes and alterations in chemical doctrine, which the discoveries of the last ten years have suggested. No apology therefore can be necessary for reprinting such a book in this country; for the press does not furnish a substitute for it. But, there is so much theoretical suggestion—so much abstruse calculation —so much fact of dubious authority—and so much dubious validity—that notes and illustrations are absolutely necessary, not merely to render the book more useful, but more intelligible.
Under these impressions, I thought fit to write notes in illustration (and sometimes in contradiction) of the work itself, rather than to make any abridgement of it. Those who wish to know the modern views of chemical science, must peruse it; and to very many who will be anxious to study it, elucidation will be necessary.
I have endeavored to supply these, to the best of my ability; regardless whether my own opinions are in dissonance or coincidence with those of my author; leaving to the reader to decide between us.
The work will be published, with notes and illustrations, in four volumes 8vo.
THOMAS COOPER, M. D.
CONDITIONS.
I. The work will be printed on a superfine paper, with a new small pica letter; and will be published early in the ensuing summer.
II. It will be illustrated with a number of cuts, of which several have been necessarily added to the London edition.
III. It will be delivered to subscribers at $12 to non-subscribers at $14, in boards. The London edition sells for $18.

James Kennedy & Son,
RESPECTFULLY inform the public that they have just received from
LEE'S MEDICINE STORE,
No. 46, Maiden lane, New-York a fresh supply of the following valuable MEDI-CINES:
Hamilton's Worm destroying Lozenges,
Which have within sixteen years past cured an immense number of persons of both sexes of every age and in every situation, of various dangerous complaints arising from WORMS, and from obstructions or foulness in the stomach and bowels.
This medicine bears no analogy whatever to others of similar titles so commonly complained of as operating with violence; on the contrary a particular excellence of this remedy is its being suited to every age and constitution. It contains nothing but what is perfectly innocent & is so mild in its operation that it cannot injure the most delicate pregnant ady or the tenderest infant of a week old should no worms exist in the body; but will without pain or gripping cleanse the stomach and bowels of whatever is foul or offensive, and thereby prevent the production of worms and many fatal disorders. The lozenges are particularly efficacious in carrying off all gross humours and eruptions, feverish and bilious complaints, and are the safest and mildest purgative that can be used on any occasion.
Description of Worms, and the symptoms by which they are known.
Worms which infest the human body are chiefly of four kinds viz.—The Ten-eres or large round worm; the Ascari-des or small maw-worm; the Cucurbitides or short flat white worm; and lastly, the Tenia or tape-worm, so called from its resemblance to tape. This is often many yards long and is full of joints. It is most hurtful and most difficult to remove.
Among the symptoms attending worms are—disagreeable breath, especially in the morning; bad and corrupted gums; itching in the nose, and about the seat; convulsions, epileptic fits, and sometimes privation of speech; starting and grinding of the teeth in sleep; irregular appetite, sometimes loathing food and sometimes voracious; purging with slimy and fœtid stools; vomiting; large and hard belly; pains and sickness at the stomach; pains in the head and thighs and lowness of spirits; slow fever with small and irregular pulse; a dry cough; excessive thirst; sometimes pale and unhealthy countenance, and sometimes the face bloated and flushed.
Persons afflicted with any of the above symptoms should have immediate recourse to Hamilton's Worm Destroying Lozenges, which have been constantly attended with success in all complaints similar to those above described.
A dose of this medicine given occasionally during the warm season, will effectually prevent "the vomiting and purging of children"—a dreadful disorder, which annually destroys thousands of the infant part of our citizens. It is likewise the mildest and most certain remedy known, and has restored to health and strength a great number when in an advanced stage of this fatal complaint. Particular and plain instructions are given for every part of the necessary treatment in such cases.
Children generally take this medicine with eagerness; having a pleasing appearance, and an agreeable taste.
The Restorative Powder for the Teeth and Gums.

For the prevention and cure of BILIOUS and MALIGNANT FEVERS is recommended
HAHN'S ANTI-BILIOUS PILLS
THIS Medicine has been attended with a degree of success highly grateful to the inventor's feelings in several parts of the West Indies and in the Southern and Middle States, &c.
The testimony of a number of persons can be adduced, who have reason to believe that a timely use of this salutary remedy has, under Providence, preserved their lives when in the most alarming circumstances.
Facts of this conclusive nature speak more in favour of a medicine than co-lums of pompous eulogy founded on mere assertion.
It is not indeed presumptuously proposed as an infallible cure, but the inventor has every possible reason that can result from extensive experience for believing that a dose of these Pills taken once in every two weeks during the prevalence of our bilious fevers, will prove an infallible preventive; and further, that in the earlier stages of those diseases their use will very generally succeed in restoring health, and frequently in cas-esteemed desperate and beyond the power of common remedies.
The operation of these pills is perfectly mild, so as to be used with safety by persons in every situation and of every age.
They are excellently adapted to carry off superfluous bile and prevent its morbid secretions—to restore and amend the appetite—to produce a free perspiration and thereby prevent colds which are often of fatal consequences. A dose never fails to remove a cold if taken on its first appearance: they are celebrated for removing habitual costiveness—sickness at the stomach and severe head-ache—and ought to be taken by all persons on a change of climate.
They have been found remarkably efficacious in preventing and curing disorders attendant on long voyages, and should be procured and carefully preserved for use by every seaman.

To the friends of Humanity.
A Naged, infirm, and widowed mother, is desirous to receive information of
of THOMAS BURTON CARTER, an only son, concerning whom she has not heard any thing, on which reliance can be placed, for nearly three years. He removed from this place to the state of Ohio about five years ago. The last certain account she had from him, was from Cardiz in that state. He is about twenty five years of age; by trade a tailor. Vague rumour has recently pronounced him dead. A letter communicating information relative to him, directed to Henry Tutwiler, P. M. at this place, would confer a peculiar kindness on an afflicted woman.
Editors of Newspapers generally, are intreated to give this article a place in their columns a few weeks.
